

Your Profile Image: Individual Supporters

Above are some examples of the kind of photograph that we are looking for. As we progress closer to achieving a world-class Christian University for Australia, we want to make sure that our publications reflect the standard that we promise to deliver. Here is a quick checklist of what we are looking for:

High Resolution

- Most importantly the image needs to be of high resolution, or high quality. We are looking for images that are not blurry or pixelated in any way.

Consider your dress & posture

- We are proud of our individual supporters and so grateful for your support. We would like to show you off to the world in the same light that we see you. So, we ask that you consider the clothes you are wearing in your photograph. We recognise that you are supporting us from a personal perspective, so we don't ask you to dress up for the occasion. However, we ask that your attire is presentable and appropriate.
- We would appreciate it if you were looking at the camera, or at least have your face turned toward the camera, and we would love to see you smile!

Consider the background & layout

- We ask that your choice of background is somewhat neutral as in the examples above. The purpose of the image is to showcase you as our supporter. We'd love to see you stand out from the background!
- To give us room to work with, we ask that roughly 50% of the image is the background, as in the examples above, making sure that your face neck and shoulders are entirely within the frame. It would be preferred, too, if the image was landscape.
- Important: Please make sure that the photograph that you submit includes only those who are registering their support. For example, if you are registering only your support, please upload a photograph of you and no one else. If you are registering as a couple, make sure that the photo includes just the two of you.

Thank you for your time in reading this document and for understanding the professionalism that we are aiming to present. Your continued support is greatly valued!
